Tempe Music Festival auctioning off Rock'n'Roll collectable for good cause

CIRCLE K TEMPE MUSIC FESTIVAL PARTNERS WITH CITY OF PHOENIX TO RAISE FUNDS FOR JOBS FOR ARIZONA'S GRADUATES

The Circle K Tempe Music Festival, occurring April 3 and 4 at Tempe Beach Park, is pleased to announce it has partnered with the City of Tempe to raise funds for Jobs for Arizona's Graduates (JAG), a 501c3 organization that is an affiliate of Jobs for America's Graduates, Inc., the longest-running and most successful school-to-career and dropout prevention program in the country. In an effort to raise funds for this program, the Festival organizers will be auctioning off a red leather loveseat, which was donated by IKEA, that all event performers will both sit on and sign, making it a piece of Rock'n'Roll history. The fundraiser will take place at the event, with a silent auction for the item beginning at 5 p.m. on Friday, April 3 and closing at 9 p.m. on Saturday, April 4. The winner will be announced live on stage before the final performers being their performances.

Now in its seventh year, the Circle K Tempe Music Festival has grown to be the largest music festival in Arizona. This year, the event will feature national, regional and local acts including Kid Rock, Roger Clyne & The Peacemaker, The Outlaws, Cowboy Mouth and Pop Evil performing on Friday, April 3 and 3 Doors Down, All American Rejects, Tom Morello: The Nightwatchman (of Rage Against the Machine), MUTEMATH, Shiny Toy Guns, Vayden, Tongue Dried Sun, Wednesday, Red Letter Drive performing on Saturday, April 4.

In addition to the dozens of national acts performing over the weekend, the event boasts a number of sports, musical and kid-friendly attractions as well. These include:

- The Red Bull Wake Lab on Tempe Town Lake, the biggest and most innovative wakeboarding event ever created and executed in the state of Arizona. Some of the nation's best riders along with several Arizona athletes will wakeboard in this revolutionary competition on a course that includes a complex mix of handrails and transfer rails, along with an elevated pool and wall ride built on Tempe Town Lake;
- The Red Bull Air Force, a 12-man team assembled from the most accomplished and experienced skydivers, BASE jumpers and Para gliders on the planet. The team combines for over 130,000 skydives and 5,000 BASE jumps. Throughout the year, they perform more than 60 demos including air shows, NFL football games, NASCAR races, motocross races as well as skydiving and BASE jumping competitions. These all-out wild men have kayaked out of airplanes, ski BASE jumped off a 30-story casino and developed a form of "free flying" that allows the skydiver to fly at speeds close to 340 miles an hour and will do doing demos all weekend long;
- A fully-operational Circle K store on-site, with all proceeds from the store going to the United Cerebral Palsy Foundation;

- The SRP Lil' Rockers Area with hands-on interactive instruments and music-related arts and crafts;
- The SRP Music Shack Stage & Garage Band Competition where the SRP Garage Band Competition finalists will battle it out to see who will open for major 3 Doors Down and All American Rejects at the festival;
- Corona Cove, a traditional beach-themed area between the Historic Mill Avenue Bridges at the waterfront that will have sand volleyball, and Tempe's own Big Bang dueling pianos as well. The area, presented by Corona, will also allow event-goers a close-up view of the Red Bull Wake Lab Competition;
- B Lounge presented by the Budweiser Family of Beers, which will act as the official VIP area of the event and will include free food and drink and giveaways from Budweiser;
- TMF TV, an all-access "behind the scenes" interview program occurring live during the festival; and
- Bud Light Sports Lounge, which will have plenty of flat screen televisions so festival attendees won't miss a minute of NCAA March Madness action.

More than 40 food, beverage and retail vendors will also be on-site offering product samplings, giveaways and other promotions all weekend long.
